All of the above packages can be purchased for a period of 6 (six) or 12 (twelve) months.

In this case, a discount will be activated on the total amount of payment in the amount of 10 (ten)% for a package for a period of 6 (six) months and 20 (twenty)% for a package for a period of 12 (twelve) months, respectively.

In addition to purchasing a package for a certain period, activation of an automatic subscription to the selected package is available.

This subscription is a payment for 1 (one) month of using the selected package, followed by automatic monthly debiting of funds from the added and verified bank card.

Bank card verification is a security measure that allows you to make sure that you are the owner of the card.

To complete this procedure, you need to click on the "Activate a new card" button, go to the page of our partners - the FONDY payment system and make a test payment.

To carry out this test payment, you need to specify the details of your bank card: full card number, card expiration date, CVV / CVC code.
